The Dairy.

English dairymen are now almost unanimous in the opinion that ground oats is the best milkproducing grain ration known.

It is claimed that the New Hampshire law requiring all ole omargarine sold in the State to be colored pink is an effectual bar to its sale.

This country requires the milk from 15,000,000 cows, they re quire 60,000,000 acres for food, and 700,000 men are needed for when the old man quickly slipped himtheir care.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.] William Diven, a fifty-two-yearold employe at the Tenth street mill few months, uttering no words, smilof Oliver Brothers, Southside, was instantly killed at twenty minutes six o'clock yesterday morning by the accidental wrenching of a crowbar from his hands in such a manner as to drive it through his head. As a bar-mill hand it was essential that he should have the bar in convenient reach, and while taking it in from the tool pit he accidentally rised it too high. Consequently the crowbar struck the fly-wheel connected with the mill's machinery, and the small end of the bar was hurled through his neck so as to

An Incident on a Street Car. That was an amusing incident which ccurred on a West Madison street car one day a few weeks ago. A young roman was hanging to the leather and, being the only woman standing, looking very much as if she were yearning for a seat. Presently an elderly man arose and, tapping the young woman on the shoulder, re-marked in a kindly way: "Would you like to set down?" "No," the woman replied, "but should like to sit."

And then she let go the leather, and was about to take the vacant seat, self back into it and remarked: It is estimated that the make tired and wanted to set down a bit." "No, thanks," she said rather icily,
